ISN'T IT BEAUTIFUL!

Construction is moving along nicely on the new guest lodge. It will have six guestrooms, each with a private bath and individually controlled H/AC. Rooms will accommodate two guests in either a king-size or two single beds. Also, a roll-away bed will be available for large groups that need room for three. One of the rooms is handicap accessible with extra space and shower to meet their needs. The wrap-around porch will make the building useful for gatherings in rocking chairs or swings.

The construction has been the result of many willing laborers who have worked diligently. A special thanks to Mr. Jim Phelan of ERC Construction for managing the project. He knows construction!

A target date has not been set for completion, but we are working diligently to have it finished by fall. If you or your group would like to help with any phase of completing this Lodge, call us and let's get together. You will be blessed for helping.

CELEBRATE WITH US

Oaks Manor Conference and Retreat Center celebrated its 10th anniversary in February, 2007. We give thanks to our Lord for making this milestone possible. Would you pause and thank our Heavenly Father for this place, and the large number of Believers who have contributed in so many ways to help bring this ministry about.

WHEW!

That is the way we feel sometimes with the busy schedule here at Oaks Manor Conference and Retreat Center. It has been great! Every type of activity you can imagine has taken place here – church retreats, deacon and elder meetings, choir rehearsals, weddings, training for Sunday School workers and church council members, staff meetings, church and business leader's training, school boards, Chamber of Commerce, men and lady's retreats, Gideon meetings, parties, dinners, leadership training for teachers and administration of preschool, children, youth, adult, and college groups – and the list could go on. Oaks Manor even served as a temporary Sunday worship location for a local church until they found a permanent home.

Through all of these groups and activities, we have seen the Lord lifted up and honored. We are grateful that these facilities have been so used.
